FORM CRS

Financial Dimensions Group, Inc. is registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission as an investment adviser and, as such, we provide advisory services rather than brokerage services. Brokerage and investment advisory services and fees differ and it is important for you, our client, to understand the differences. Additionally, free and simple tools are available to research firms and financial professionals at Investor.gov/CRS, which also provides educational materials about broker-dealers, investment advisers, and investing. This document is a summary of the services and fees we offer to "retail" investors, which are natural persons who seek or receive services primarily for personal, family, or household purposes.

What investment services and advice can you provide me?

We offer the following investment advisory services to retail investors: Asset Management Services; Portfolio Manager to a Wrap Fee Program(s); Financial Planning Services; and Retirement Plan Consulting Services. Detailed information regarding our services, fees and other disclosures can be found in our Form ADV Part 2A Brochure, Items 4, 7, and 8 by clicking this link <https://adviserinfo.sec.gov/firm/brochure/115143>.

Account Monitoring: If you open an investment account with our firm, as part of our standard service we will monitor your investments on a quarterly basis.

Investment Authority: We manage investment accounts on a discretionary basis whereby we will decide which investments to buy or sell for your account. We have discretion to select, retain or replace third-party managers to manage your accounts. You may limit our discretionary authority (for example, limiting the types of securities that can be purchased or sold for your account) by providing our firm with your restrictions and guidelines in writing. We also offer non-discretionary investment management services whereby we will provide advice, but you will ultimately decide which investments to buy and sell for your account. You have an unrestricted right to decline to implement any advice provided by our firm on a non-discretionary basis.

Investment Offerings: We provide advice on various types of investments. Our services are not limited to a specific type of investment or product; however, we primarily use open-ended mutual funds including no-load and load-waived or mutual funds purchased at net asset value (NAV) and exchange traded funds.

Account Minimums and Requirements: In general, depending on the service requested, we require a minimum account size ranging from $5,500 up to $50,000 to open/maintain an advisory account, which may be waived in our discretion.

Key Questions to Ask Your Financial Professional

- Given my financial situation, should I choose an investment advisory service? Why or Why Not?
- How will you choose investments to recommend to me?
- What is your relevant experience, including your licenses, education and other qualifications?
- What do these qualifications mean?

What fees will I pay?

The following summarizes the principal fees and costs associated with engaging our firm for investment advisory services. For detailed information, refer to our Form ADV Part 2A Brochure, Items 5 and 6 by clicking this link <https://adviserinfo.sec.gov/firm/brochure/115143>.

- Asset Based Fees - Payable quarterly in advance or arrears, depending on how contracted. Since the fees we receive are asset-based (i.e. based on the value of your account), we have an incentive to increase your account value which creates a conflict especially for those accounts holding illiquid or hard-to-value assets. We also have an incentive to increase your advisory fee to cover the administrative fee charged to the Advisory Representative for participation in the Advisor Managed Portfolios program.
- Hourly Fees - Generally, payable one-half up front with remainder due upon completion or quarterly in arrears depending on how contracted;
- Fixed Fees - Payable as invoiced;
- Wrap Program Fees - Payable quarterly in advance or arrears, depending on how contracted. Asset-based fees associated with a wrap fee program generally include most transaction costs and fees to a broker-dealer or bank that has custody of the assets; therefore, the asset-based fee is higher than a typical asset-based advisory fee. Since our firm or your Advisory Representative pays the transaction costs associated with securities transactions in your account, we have an incentive to minimize the trading in your account or to trade your account using certain securities where the transaction fees are reduced or waived.
- Commissions - As an Investment Adviser, Financial Dimensions Group, Inc. does not receive commissions. However, Advisory Representatives acting as Registered Representatives of Royal Alliance Associates, Inc., the broker-dealer, receive commissions.

- Fees related to variable annuities, including surrender charges;
- Additional common fees and/or expenses such as: Custodian fees; account maintenance fees; fees related to mutual funds and exchange-traded funds; and transaction charges when purchasing or selling securities in non-wrap fee accounts;
- Other Advisory Fees - In addition to our fees, if applicable, you will also pay advisory fees charged by third party money managers, which are separate and apart from our fees.

You will pay fees and costs whether you make or lose money on your investments. Fees and costs will reduce any amount of money you make on your investments over time. Please make sure you understand what fees and costs you are paying.

Key Questions to Ask Your Financial Professional

- Help me understand how these fees and costs might affect my investments. If I give you $10,000 to invest, how much will go to fees and costs, and how much will be invested for me?

What are your legal obligations to me when acting as my investment adviser? How else does your firm make money and what conflicts of interest do you have?

When we act as your investment adviser, we have to act in your best interest and not put our interest ahead of yours. At the same time, the way we make money creates some conflicts with your interests. You should understand and ask us about these conflicts because they can affect the investment advice we provide you. Here are some examples to help you understand what this means.

- Third Party Payments: Persons providing advice on behalf of our firm are registered representatives with Royal Alliance, a broker-dealer, and/or are licensed as independent insurance agents. These persons will earn commission-based compensation in connection with the purchase and sale of securities or other investment and insurance products. Some persons are also investment adviser representatives with Royal Alliance, an SEC registered investment adviser. These persons will earn fee-based compensation for advisory services. Certain persons providing investment advice on behalf of our firm provide legal services or tax preparation services. Commission-based compensation, outside advisory fees, tax related and/or legal services earned by these persons are separate and in addition to our advisory fees. This practice presents a conflict of interest because they have an incentive to recommend investment, insurance, fee-based products or tax/legal services based on the compensation received rather than solely based on your needs.

Refer to our Form ADV Part 2A Brochure, Items 5, 10, 12 and 14 by clicking this link <https://adviserinfo.sec.gov/firm/brochure/115143> to help you understand what conflicts exist.

Key Questions to Ask Your Financial Professional

- How might your conflicts of interest affect me, and how will you address them?

How do your financial professionals make money?

The financial professionals servicing your account(s) are compensated through: Salary; Product Sales Commissions, and Non-cash Compensation. Financial professionals' compensation is based on the amount of client assets they service and the time and complexity required to meet a client's needs. They also receive non-cash compensation in the form of research, educational information and conferences, and monetary support for due-diligence trips and client events. Some Advisory Representatives receive forgivable loans from Royal Alliance as incentive to maintain a broker-dealer relationship for a stated period of time. These loans are typically used to assist in the expansion of business practices.

Do you or your financial professionals have legal or disciplinary history?

Yes. Visit Investor.gov/CRS for a free and simple search tool to research us and our financial professionals.
